Welcome

Utilitates comes from utilitas -atis: the Latin plural points out a set of things perceived from the perspective of their practical benefit. It is, precisely, what we wanted to collect in this congress guide. In it you will find from useful news about accommodation to transport information. To this guide will follow, at the end of July, a second one: Academica. Good preparation for the congress!

Hosting

The city of Valencia offers a wide variety of hotel facilities. In addition, it has hostels (www.reaj.com), many colleges and residences for students (<https://www.uv.es/uvweb/universidad/es/universitat/vivir-universidad/alojamiento/colegios-mayores-adscritos-1285847621146.html>) and a great Airbnb offer (<https://www.airbnb.es/>).

1. Colleges associated with Kant València 2018

The university residences or colleges are an institution with a long history in Spain. The Universitat de València has several, in very different styles and enclaves. Among them are the “Rector Peset” and the “Damià Bonet”. The “Rector Peset” residence is located in a completely renovated palace located in the historic center of the city (Plaça del Forn de Sant Nicolau, 4), a few meters from the magnificent baroque temple dedicated to St. Nicholas and from the Cavallers street. The “Damià Bonet” college occupies a modern and functional building, located next to the Tarongers campus (carrer del Serpis, 27) and in the neighbourhood of the great Blasco Ibáñez avenue where is the main building of the Faculty of Philosophy and Education Sciences. On this website you can find more details about both institutions.

The plenary and semi-plenary conference speakers have reserved accommodation at the “Rector Peset”. To indicate your arrival and departure day, you must contact David Hereza (sekle.kant4@gmail.com) before June 15.

To facilitate the accommodation of the speakers from more distant countries – from South and Central America, North America and Asia – the congress organization has reserved 13 apartments in the “Damià Bonet” university residence. Each apartment has two individual rooms, kitchen and living room, with daily cleaning of the room and daily change of towels. Each apartment can be reserved for individual use (for a total of € 49 / night), for double use (€ 29.50 per person per night) or for triple use (€ 23 per person per night).

Those speakers who wish to stay in the “Damià Bonet” can request a reservation through the organization of the congress. In the allocation of reserves, people who are in one or more of the following cases will be favored: (a) to work as research fellows and doctoral students and / or not having an institutional position; (b) to travel from South America, Central and North America or Asia; and (c) to be part of the SEKLE. To request the reservation, please contact David Hereza (sekle.kant4@gmail.com) before June 15th.

Move in the city

Valencia has metro, tram and bus lines, in addition to a public bicycle service.

Subway

In the same for the airport metro (or any other), you can buy a TuIN card with € 10 on trips (+ € 1 for the card). If you are going to use public transport, we recommend that you buy this card at the airport and not buy single tickets. In case you run out of € 10, you can reload the card as many times as you want and the price of the trip is 50% cheaper than the single ticket.

The university campus where the congress will be held has a nearby metro stop, FACULTATS, which can be reached from any stop on line 3 (red line).

At any subway stop or within it, you will find the following map that will allow you to locate [see the maps section of this guide].

Bus

With the TuIN card you can also access any bus line. The campus has the stop, AV. BLASCO IBÁÑEZ, to which lines 12, 30, 31, 71, 79, 80, 81 arrive.

Streetcar

There are only tram lines in the northern side of the city that goes to La Malvarrosa beach and are not useful to reach the congress facilities, but yes (if the weather is good) for some time of relaxation. With the TuIN card you can also take the tram.

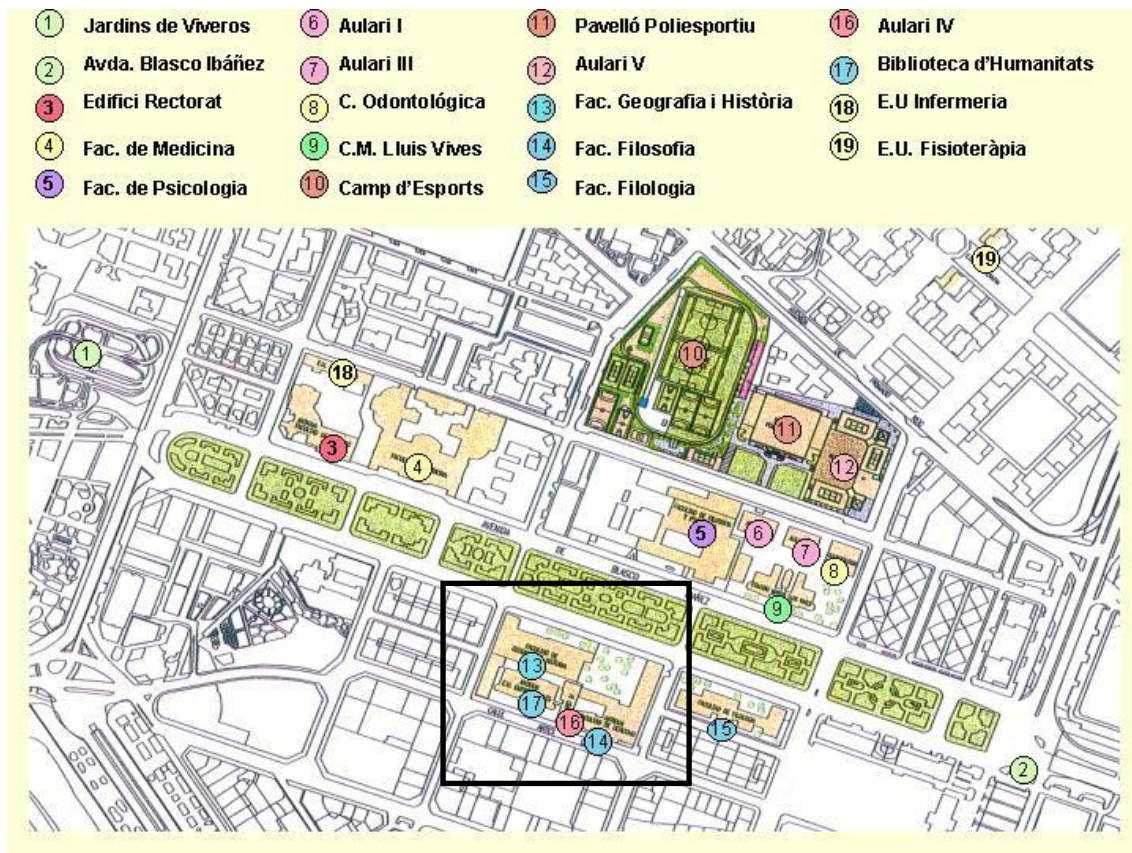

Public bicycle

Throughout the whole city, there are Valenbisi stops with bicycles that can be picked up and dropped off at different stops (one near the university, at the door of the Faculty of Geography and History). It is possible to access the bikes by subscribing for a week to the Valenbisi system (<https://abo-valence.cyclocity.fr/subscribe/start>). Once registered, with a code chosen by you, you can take any free bike in any of the available stops. The service works 24 hours a day.
